

Better Bidgee Program

Balranald Weir and Yanga Lake initiative

About the Better Bidgee Program

The NSW Government is investigating a range of measures for the Murrumbidgee River system as part of rescoping the Yanco Creek Offtake Project. These measures are part of a new Better Bidgee program (the program).

Following the Murray-Darling Basin Ministerial Council meeting in April, Water Infrastructure NSW has rescoped the Yanco Creek Offtake Sustainable Diversion Limits Adjustment Mechanism (SDLAM) Project and investigated options that could be supported by the community.

Our focus over the past few months has been evaluating the years of community feedback regarding the need to improve connectivity, environmental, cultural and community outcomes.

We know that these issues can only be addressed by taking a holistic, system-wide approach to water infrastructure planning and operations, working in tandem with changes in water policy and strategy. We also know that feedback from our stakeholders and communities is critical to ensuring we progress the best options for delivering outcomes.

We have recently launched a major consultation and engagement program, which will enable us to work side-by-side with communities to investigate solutions to create a Better Bidgee. This is a shift towards beneficial outcomes for communities and the environment.

Options are currently being investigated by the project team, most of which are in the very early planning stages. Community feedback and input will play a crucial role in shaping which initiatives are progressed, and what these initiatives look like, to deliver a Better Bidgee.

About the proposed Balranald Weir and Yanga Lake initiative

The proposed Balranald Weir and Yanga Lake initiative would not just complement but also increase the benefits of the existing NSW SDLAM Yanga and Millewa Projects. The initiative would investigate options to augment flow into Yanga Lake including managing the pool height of Balranald Weir. The project would also improve fish passage within the Bidgee and between the river and lake.

The initiative would include refurbishing, upgrading or decommissioning structures within the Yanga National Park to more efficiently direct water into Yanga Lake.

Potential benefits

The potential benefits include:

- supporting community and tourism outcomes through maintaining an improved water regime in Yanga Lake
- improving the condition of high value ecological assets including part of Yanga National Park
- reinstating fish passage to support fish breeding and movement.

Stakeholder engagement

Communities will be at the heart of the Better Bidgee program. We are committed to working in partnership to develop the program to deliver outcomes with broad community support.

We will provide numerous opportunities for local communities and stakeholders to have their say on the design of the program and throughout the development and delivery phases of any projects. This feedback will be a key input into decision making and will help shape the program's future design.

We are also keen to hear any alternative or additional ideas local communities may have to deliver economic, cultural and environmental outcomes for local communities and the environment across the Murrumbidgee River system.

We will be reaching out to local communities to discuss the proposed ideas making up the Better Bidgee program. Upcoming engagement and partnering opportunities will be listed on the Better Bidgee webpage and on our stakeholder engagement page.

Engagement with First Nations people

We recognise and acknowledge the unique relationship and deep Connection to Country that First Nations people have as the Traditional Owners and First Peoples of Australia.

The wisdom and experience of First Nations communities will play a critical role in informing the development and approach to the Better Bidgee program.

We have a dedicated engagement team who will guide our program engagement with these communities, and we look forward to working with them to deliver real, tangible and widely accepted outcomes.
